

shape the way you work

work choices—raised to the power of 4

You no longer have to squeeze yourself into some model of working that someone else chooses for you. It's your career—you should decide which types of assignments and working formats make the most sense for you. Because Randstad Technologies provides our clients four service offerings—Recruiting, Consulting, Projects, and Outsourcing—our candidates have work options that other staffing firms can't offer. The experience gained by working in different modes allows you to build a richer, more varied career and offers greater personal growth. You gain insights and experience that can open additional opportunities throughout your working life.

our diversified solutions offers greater choice...

Some of the best-known and innovative companies throughout the U.S turn to us to provide them the skilled talent they need—the way they need it.

- Recruitment

Our world-class recruiting practice sets us apart. Because we're known as experts at finding exceptional talent, we've got the client database and expertise to find you a temporary, temp-to-perm or permanent position that matches your skills and requirements.

- Consulting

Prefer to work in a consulting role? Randstad Technologies consultants work on a wide range of IT related assignments helping clients solve complex strategic and operational problems.

- Projects

Some people like the visible results and team dynamics associated with project work. If that's you, we can keep you busy with a wide variety of project types that range in duration from a few weeks — to years.

- Outsourcing

Clients offload a part or total ownership of an IT function to us. Some candidates find this type of work blends the best characteristics of full-time positions with the variety of assignments usually associated with consulting and project work.

Don't really understand the nuances of each offering? We'll work with you to help you decide which model best suits your preferences and goals.

because we're part of the 2nd largest staffing firm in the world...

Through us, our candidates have access to career-shaping resources:

- A client list that includes thousands of companies that understand the value of their IT function and workforce.
- A nationwide footprint, which offers geographical variety spanning the nation from your neighborhood — to across the country.
- Industry sector experience that encompasses everything from banking/finance — to telecom — to retail — to healthcare — to you name it.
- Work models and assignments that vary in duration so candidates don't feel "locked-in" to one mode of work.
- You work closely with a staff of Randstad Technologies professionals who listen to your needs and focus on finding you the type of work that matches your needs and goals.

did you know?

Randstad Technologies puts over 200 people to work every week. Let us help you better understand the varied work alternatives available through Randstad Technologies.

follow us online and visit us at www.randstadtechnologies.com

